INTRODUCTION

Hey You! Yes, You!
Are you interested in our BEST Online Course
organised in Lodz? Great!
To prepare you for this event, we created a survival guide, which will help you and will answer your questions.

If you have any questions
after reading this survival guide, feel free to ask us anything that is on your mind,
we'll be happy to help!

YOU SHOULD KNOW:

Our course will be held online between :

12-16 JULY 2021

Unfortunately, we will not be able to meet in person, but it will not prevent us from organizing the funniest course for you. This is the course where you can learn more about technology of the rotating packed bed (RPB) absorber and also meet students from other countries and their cultures.

Some classes will be based on computer simulation, which requires Ansys student software. Free trial version is available on their website, please make sure you are able to run it on your computer. Further information how to set up all necessary platforms on which the course will be held will be provided soon.

ŁODZ UNIVERSITY OF TECHNOLOGY

Lodz University of Technology is a well-established higher education institution with an evolved structure.

Prospective students have nine faculties to choose from as well as many additional units which enable interdisciplinary studies, provide study support, foreign language instruction, entertainment and sports.

Our course will be held at:

FACULTY OF PROCESS AND ENVIRONMENTAL ENGINEERING

WHAT IT IS?

BEST-Board of European Students of Technology was founded in 1989 as a non-profit and non-political organisation which constantly provides communication, co-operation and exchange possibilities for students all over Europe. There are 93 Local BEST groups which are creating a well organised, young and innovative students network.

LBG LODZ- WHAT IT IS?

Locally BEST Lodz has been constantly working since 1998. The core of our local Best group consist of energetic, enthustic and innovative young students. We associate about 50 active members who are hard-working and bring our activities to life.

One of our goals is to integrate three environments: students, academic and economic.
